

Morris Levine Case Again Put Over Present Term

Case Is Set Down For Second Week of June Term—Peter Taylor Will Be Sentenced First Day of June Term.

The Morris Levine case which was put over at the last term of county court on motion of Judge William D. Cunningham on account of the absence of two witnesses and with the understanding that it would be disposed of at this term of county court was again put over the present term this morning when Judge Cunningham filed an affidavit with the court stating that he was engaged in trial work in Westchester county. Witnesses for The People have been in court several times and District Attorney Traver stated that the witnesses had been brought here at great expense to the county, some from as far away as Buffalo.

When the case was moved for trial last week Judge Cunningham filed an affidavit with the court stating that he would be engaged in trial work in White Plains the first of this week and the case was held until Thursday morning. This morning a further affidavit was filed stating that Judge Cunningham was still engaged in civil trial work in Westchester county. The case in which he was engaged during the first part of the week was prolonged a day on account of the court recessing for a day in order that the presiding judge might attend a funeral. This unforeseen reason compelled the case to extend over a day longer than anticipated and left the county court with no business when it convened today.

In replying to the affidavit which stated a legal excuse for the postponement of the trial of the Levine action, which is a disorderly house action, District Attorney Traver stated to the court that while the excuse was a legal one Judge Cunningham had become engaged in the trial after he had known that the Levine case was to be moved in county court here. On March 23 notices had been sent out to attorneys having criminal matters on the calendar of the cases to be moved at this term. The Levine case had been stipulated to be tried at this term. Since that notice had been sent out Judge Cunningham had become engaged in court in the face of the knowledge that the case was to be moved. Mr. Traver asked that the court take steps to prevent a recurrence of the same action in June when the case will again be moved for trial. He suggested that the case be definitely set down for the second week for trial at the June term and asked that that be one of the conditions on which the case go over now.

Judge Fowler suggested that a definite day, the first day of the June term, be set aside for the Levine case but this was objected to by Mr. Traver who stated that there would be a grand jury between now and the June term and there would probably be a number of indictments handed up and this would mean that there would be jail cases for disposition on the opening day of the June term. Jail cases are given right of way over cases where the defendant is not confined to jail and jail cases are disposed of first.

In view of that fact Judge Fowler stated the case would be set down for the second week of the June term and on no condition would it go over.

At the present term of county court thirteen cases have been disposed of by The People. Court recessed until Monday morning at 10 o'clock at which time several civil matters will be disposed of. Court will probably be in session two or three days next week.

Snart Pleads Guilty.
Charles R. Snart, held by the city judge on a charge of grand larceny, first degree, for the action of the grand jury elected that he be prosecuted by information filed with the court instead of waiting for the formality of the grand jury action. An order directing prosecution was entered and Snart entered a plea of guilty on being arraigned. Imposition of sentence was postponed until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in order to investigate the circumstances more thoroughly.

Get Three Months Sentence.
Edward W. Lavarey of California and Albert Hoar of Moravia, N. Y., held by Justice Harold Lent of Lloyd to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of burglary, third degree, were also prosecuted under an information filed with the court. The act is alleged to have been committed in the town of Lloyd on March 28, 1928. They were allowed to plead guilty to unlawful entry and were given a three months sentence in the county jail.

Suspend Sentence Until June
Peter Taylor charged with grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed on May 7, 1927, in the town of Wawarsing was also allowed to take advantage of the law which permits a person held for the grand jury to make application to the court for prosecution by an order of the court issued on information filed with the court. Taylor was picked up by the New Jersey police this week and turned over to the local authorities. A sentence of one year and one month at Dannemora was imposed by the court and the execution of sentence was suspended until the first day of the June term when Taylor will report to the court. This was done at the suggestion of the complaining witness and Taylor was instructed to make restitution between now and the June term and

Hold Macomber For Grand Jury

Accused of Being Burglar in Elmhurst House Who Leaped From Second Story Window Sunday Morning—Other Cases.

Lee Macomber, 17, of 112 Tremper avenue, who was arrested early Sunday morning by Everett Roosa and turned over to the police on a charge of being the burglar found in the bedroom of Archie Elmhurst of 128 Downs street, who leaped from the second story window when cornered, was held to await the action of the grand jury this morning in police court after a hearing before Judge Shufeldt. The youth was represented by Attorney Walter J. Miller while Attorney Lloyd LeFever represented The People.

It was about 2 o'clock Sunday morning when Elmhurst awakened to see a burglar crawling on his hands and knees in his bedroom. As Elmhurst turned to awaken his wife the burglar rolled under the bed and Elmhurst leaping out of the bed went to his bureau and secured his loaded revolver. While the womanfolk were descending to the first floor the burglar suddenly leaped out of the open second story window and fled although Elmhurst chased him and fired three times. Later Everett Roosa, who resides across the street and who was awakened by the shots, joined in the hunt which led to the capture of young Macomber.

John G. Kouhout, 28, arrested Wednesday night on a charge of public intoxication, and disturbing his wife on Wurts street, had his hearing adjourned until later.

Frank Ward, arrested at 2 o'clock this morning on a charge of public intoxication on Washington avenue, was given a suspended sentence.

A. L. Simpson, 49, of Lowell, Mass., arrested for public intoxication on lower Broadway on Wednesday, was sentenced to five days in jail.

What Makes City Water So Roily?

Inquiry at Water Board Office Fails to Bring Forth Solution—Water Is Not Only Roily but Has Peculiar Taste—May Be Due to Fire Tests.

For the past few days users of city water have been complaining of the roily condition of the water as it flowed from the house faucets. Not only was the water roily but it has a peculiar taste that is far from agreeable. Conditions in regard to the water seem to be general, for not only do they exist on West Chestnut street but also on Washington avenue.

Inquiry at the water board office this morning brought no solution of the difficulty. Wednesday representatives of the Fire Insurance Underwriters were busy making tests of the water pressure about the city and considerable water was drawn off through the fire hydrants which together with the heavy rains might have had something to do with stirring up the water.

What made the city water taste so peculiarly however, has not been explained. Today the water department was busy installing a new fire hydrant at the corner of Broadway and West Chester street to replace the broken hydrant at that point which had been discharging during the night.

Troopers Caught Napanoch Inmate

The local police department received word Wednesday that Andrew Tell, 22, had made his escape from the institution for Defective Delinquents at Napanoch, and asking that a search be made for the prisoner in Kingston. Later the police received word that Tell had been caught near Ellenville by State Troopers and returned to the institution.

Tell was the second prisoner to make his escape within a short time. About two weeks ago Clayton Christenson made his escape and coming to Kingston broke into the Army and Navy Store at Broadway and Cornell street and helped himself to a new outfit of clothing, leaving his institution uniform behind him on the floor of the store. Clayton is still at large.

Train Kills Traffic Manager.
Providence, R. I., April 24 (AP).—Perry Shaw, 50, traffic manager of the American Woolen Company, was killed by a freight train here today on his behavior will depend the action taken by the court at that time. He will report to the court on June 4 at 2 o'clock. Taylor was recalled to the court later and the first sentence amended so as to impose an indeterminate sentence as required by law. The sentence imposed was from one year and one month to two years at Clinton State prison at Dannemora and the same conditions in regard to the serving of the term was imposed as originally. Judge Fowler stated to the defendant that on his behavior as reported in June would depend the consideration for a modification of sentence.

Court recessed until Monday at 10 o'clock.

Miss Martin Wins Slogan Contest

Conducted by the Kingston Coal Company in Which Six Hundred Slogans and Drawings Were Submitted—Arthur J. Carroll Awarded Second Prize.

The judges appointed to select the winning entries in the slogan contest conducted by the Kingston Coal Company have arrived at a decision and announce the awards. Over six hundred slogans and drawings were submitted, each of which was examined by each judge. Because of the great number of entries to be examined, and because the quality of the material submitted was so excellent, it was necessary for the judges to devote considerable time to the selection.

The final decision of the judges was unanimous. However, there were many excellent drawings and slogans received, too numerous to be included in the award. The judges were high in their praise of the originality and skill shown by the residents of Kingston in the material submitted in the contest.

The following statement was made and signed by the judges. Owing to the illness of Dr. Michael, Professor B. C. Van Ingen substituted in his place.

"This is to certify that we, the undersigned judges in the slogan and drawing contest conducted by the Kingston Coal Company, Inc., having met this day and having given due and careful consideration to all entries in said contest, are unanimous in awarding the prizes offered."

First Prize—$100.
Awarded to Miss A. Martin, 34 Taylor street, Kingston, N. Y.

"This is a very clever drawing of 'General Command', a very martial soldier, seemingly carved from anthracite, wearing a jaunty white cap and carrying his shovel at port arms, who issued his order of the day:

"Make your heating troubles light. Fill your bins with D&H Anthracite."

Second Prize—$50.
Awarded to Arthur J. Carroll, care Freeman Publishing Co., Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. Carroll submits the following slogan, descriptive of the satisfactory performance of Lackawanna Anthracite:

"D&H Lackawanna Anthracite Makes Warm Friends Warmers."

Third Prize—$25 Each
To Robert P. Carter, 14 Wynkoop Place, Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. Carter's offering is a well executed emblem of "The Coal That Smiles at Winter." A black-bordered circle, containing the above words, in white letters forming the frame for the picture of an inquisitive young miner, clad in a black jacket and boots and wearing a miner's cap, surmounted by a torch light. An engaging smile illuminates the face of this black boy, giving him an air of mischievous good nature.

To Miss Mabel J. Cassell, 127 Pine street, Kingston, N. Y.

For the slogan calling attention to the long and satisfactory service rendered by Lackawanna Anthracite:

"Proof for a century and still just right. D&H Lackawanna Anthracite."

To Aaron Cohen, Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. Cohen skillfully shows the contrast in the dispositions of a gentleman—Mr. Cold (with gloomy countenance), who tried hard to heat his home with inferior fuel, and the same gentleman (now wearing a cheerful grin), who changed his name to Mr. Coal, when he discovered the satisfaction to be obtained from Lackawanna Anthracite.

To "Heat his home, a fool there was who worked with all his might. Until he used D&H Lackawanna Anthracite."

To Jacob Gasool, 298 Clinton avenue, Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. Gasool discovers some of the good qualities found in D&H Lackawanna Anthracite suggested by the leading letter of each word, as follows:

Delaware & Hudson
Dependable & High Grade
Lackawanna & Active
Long Life & Coal

To R. Hammond, 221 Clinton avenue, Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. Hammond endorses Lackawanna Anthracite, the fuel that has given satisfaction for one hundred years. "Born in Eighteen Twenty-three. The coal for you—the coal for me."

Bennett's Body To Rest Near That Of Admiral Peary

Famous Pilot to Be Buried in Arlington Cemetery, Washington, Friday Afternoon—Flier's Mother to Join Funeral Party in New York.

Quebec, April 26 (AP)—Floyd Bennett, who piloted the first plane to reach the North Pole, will rest near the discoverer of the Pole. He is to be buried tomorrow in Arlington National Cemetery outside Washington. His grave will be close to that of Admiral Robert E. Peary.

The body of the man who took Commander Richard E. Byrd across the Pole and who died from attempting to carry aid to three fellow fliers, leaves Quebec on a special car at 1:30 p. m. today, accompanied by his wife and his beloved child, Commander Byrd. The train is due to arrive in New York at 7:30 Friday morning.

The casket will be taken under military and police escort from the Grand Central to the Pennsylvania station for the trip to Washington, which begins three hours later. The burial will be immediately after the arrival in Washington Friday afternoon.

Interment in Arlington.
Mrs. Bennett first expressed the wish that her husband's body be buried near their home in Brooklyn, but later acceded to the request that it be beside America's other heroes in Arlington.

A slab of stone will not be the only material remembrance of the man who blazed the air trail over the Arctic region. Commander Byrd announced that the airplane he would use in his attempted flight over the South Pole would be named "The Floyd Bennett."

Had Bennett lived, he would have been second in command of the expedition and probably at the controls of the plane on the flight.

From President Coolidge and Secretary Wilbur, his two highest ranking officers, from the men with whom he flew and worked, from his shipmates of the days when he was an unknown naval mechanic, messages of condolence came to his widow.

He had captured the admiration of the world and the love of all who knew him by his unassuming manner, his quiet courage, his lack of ostentation. His casket was covered with flowers these persons have sent.

Aged Mother to Join Party.
Commander Byrd notified Bennett's 80 year old mother at Lake George, N. Y., of her son's death and she plans to meet the funeral party in New York for the trip to Washington. Mrs. Mary E. Breeyer, of Waterbury, Vt., Mrs. Bennett's mother, also plans to join her daughter for the journey.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who risked his life to carry serum provided by the Rockefeller Institute from New York to Quebec, returned to New York by plane yesterday. Lindbergh's plane swooped low over the hospital where Bennett's body lay, the thunder of its motor plainly audible in the death chamber. Not until he reached New York did Lindbergh learn Bennett was dead.

Byrd's Tribute to Bennett.
Commander Byrd was heartbroken over his friend's death. "Bennett was one of the coolest and bravest men I ever knew," he said. "He was a man of the greatest energy, endurance and skill, both as a navigator and as a mechanic. We had planned to make the South Pole flight, but it was not to be."

Later, in a message to his expedition's headquarters in New York, Commander Byrd said:

"I intend to go through with the Antarctic expedition as a memorial to Floyd Bennett. I shall name the Antarctic plane to be used in an attempt to fly over the pole The Floyd Bennett."

Byrd refused the offer of friends to send a plane to Quebec for him. "I will stay with the wife of my very good friend," he answered, "until she is back at home."

Mrs. Bennett asked that the Rev. L. E. Smith, pastor of the Christian Church at Norfolk, Va., of which she and her husband were members, be asked to officiate in the services at the grave.

over his shoulder with one hand to a sign showing Kingston Coal Company, while with his other hand he points to a "tip."

"Keep the home fires burning bright With Lackawanna Anthracite."

Directly under the slogan is the famous Lackawanna Anthracite emblem with three radiating arrows bearing the inscription "Buy It Now."

To Mrs. Fred L. Reed, 78 Henry street, Kingston, N. Y.

Mrs. Reed, in an excellent drawing, depicts a young couple enjoying the warmth of their cozy home and suggests that:

"Your train will be grateful for D&H Anthracite Coal."

To Thomas Rich, 128 Spring street, Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. Rich has submitted a striking drawing in black and white contrast. An appealing youngster, pointing

Murder Marks Path of Rebels

Depredations of Nicaragua General's Followers Directed Principally Against Those Who Want American Marines There.

Managua, Nicaragua, April 24 (AP)—Excitement prevailed along the east coast of Nicaragua today as the Marine base was moved some 100 miles further north nearer the scene of rebel operations.

Natives and employees who fled from the Pis Pis mining district in the face of the advance of Rebel General Augustino Sandino brought with them reports of his depredations as he came eastward from Maragappa. Tales were told by Nicaraguans arriving on the coast of murder and plunder by the insurgents, especially of those who did not sympathize with Sandino's objective, driving the Marines from Nicaragua.

Brickade headquarters said these tales were exaggerated, scoffed at reports that Sandino had a large and well mounted force, and announced the removal of the east coast base from Bluefields to Puerto Cabezas (Bramante's Bluff).

Only one foreigner was definitely known to have escaped before the rebel advance into the mining region, Harry Amplett, British manager of La Luz Y Los Angeles mine, was safe at Puerto Cabezas. The rate of all other foreigners in the region was in doubt.

Marshall's Fate in Doubt.
Interest centered in the fate of George B. Marshall, assistant manager of La Luz. The customs collector at Puerto Cabezas reported to his chief at Managua on Tuesday that Marshall had been slain. The Associated Press correspondent at Bluefields, which is eighty miles further from the mining district than Puerto Cabezas, sent a dispatch yesterday saying:

"Assessing manager Marshall is held by General Giron, who commands the raiders. All commissary supplies, mules and ore were taken. Marshall reports being well treated as long as Giron stays by him."

"The Bonanza mine was looted. An attempt is being made to work the same by the raiders; it is thought that Marshall is being held to assist."

Minutes Forced to Retire.
The Bluefields dispatch also said that First Lieutenant Tobbs of the Marines had to retire after making contact with the rebels "due to overwhelming opposition."

"He is out again with a larger patrol," it continued. "All supplies the raiders couldn't take from both mines and natives were destroyed. The band was made up of Hondurans, Costa Ricans and Nicaraguans and the raiders were well armed and mounted. The nature of the land makes operations difficult."

The Managua brigade headquarters denied that the Marines were forced to retire and also that Sandino had 500 men with him. They believed that Sandino had not more than 150 men and scant ammunition.

CANADA'S FAREWELL TO FLOYD BENNETT

Quebec, April 26 (AP)—Canada gave a hero's farewell today to Floyd Bennett as his body was started toward its resting place in the National cemetery of the United States.

Circling airplanes, dipping in salute above the cortege, honored the man whose exploits had brought the science of flying fresh laurels, while slowly through the tortuous streets of the ancient city rumbled the gun carriage bearing the body.

The Royal Twenty-second Regiment was his escort and his tribute came with the tears of the men, women and children who with bowed heads quietly took their places in the ever-lengthening procession as it moved toward the waiting train.

A small group had assembled in the small chapel of the Jeffrey Hale Hospital, where died the aviator who had conquered the frozen north in the first flight to the pole.

COAL OPERATOR REFUSES TO DEAL WITH UNION
Washington, April 26 (AP)—H. E. Willard of Cleveland, secretary of the United States Coal Company, today declared before the Senate committee investigating the bituminous industry that his concern would never "under any circumstances" whatsoever again meet with or deal with the United Mine Workers of America.

Otherwise, his testimony was directed chiefly at what he described as lawless conditions and violence in the Ohio fields following the closing of his company's mines upon the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement.

Communists' Convention.
New York, April 26 (AP)—The Workers' (Communist) party announced today that a three-day national convention, at which a Presidential candidate will be nominated, will be held here commencing May 25. Between 200 and 500 delegates from every state in the union are expected to attend.

Bandits Rob Toronto Bank.
Toronto, April 26 (AP)—Two bandits held up a branch of the Standard Bank of Canada today and escaped with approximately $25,000. The men made their getaway in a closed automobile bearing a Michigan license.

Deplores Flight Of Col. Lindbergh

Canadian Officials Say He Was Innocent Victim of Publicity Stunt In Carrying Serum to Quebec.

Montreal, April 26 (By the Canadian Press)—Severe criticism of the flight to carry serum from New York to Quebec for the treatment of Floyd Bennett has been made by Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec and Provincial Secretary Athanas David, but Mr. David made plain that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's part in the flight was entirely admirable.

In an address last night the Premier asserted that the flight was entirely unnecessary as there was plenty of serum in Canada. Mr. David, expanding on this statement, expressed the belief that the flight was a vulgar and spectacular publicity stunt in which unnamed persons had made use of Colonel Lindbergh, himself entirely innocent of wrong doing, to further their selfish aims.

"As for Colonel Lindbergh," said the provincial secretary, "I have the utmost respect and admiration for him. He reflects the bravery of youth. I am his very great admirer, but why this bluff? And especially this bluff perpetrated by the use of an American, a world figure?"

Licenses Revoked And Suspended

Among the 484 licenses to drive and certificates of automobile registration revoked or suspended by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Charles A. Harnett in the four weeks ended April 17 were the following in this vicinity: Revocation—Nicholas Verdile, Saugerties, charged with leaving the scene of an accident without reporting. Suspension—William Craig, 44 Linderman avenue, Kingston, charged with reckless driving.

In New York city there were 102 revocations and 116 suspensions. There were 34 revocations and 27 suspensions, the former including 16 for failure to file omnibus bonds in the counties of the Albany district.

ONE OF EVERY FIVE MARRIAGES REACH COURT.
New York, April 26 (AP)—One out of every five new marriages in the United States is brought into court, says a report of the United States Children's Bureau read before the joint committee on domestic relations courts of the National Probation Association.

The report criticizes the present divorce and non-support court, saying "These courts do not make use of the material they secure. It is a waste of time that would cause financial ruin in an industrial establishment."

The report said the bureau had made exhaustive study of the problems underlying family disruption and divorce and was formulating methods of correction.

Fliers Take Off From Island in Ford Relief Plane

May Land at Quebec Field If Ice in Lake Is Not Strong Enough for Landing—Bremen Left Behind Because It Lacked Skis.

Lake St. Armand, Que., April 26 (By The Canadian Press).—The three aviators who were first to make the westward crossing of the Atlantic by plane today at last were free of their isolation on Greenly Island and headed toward the continent which the world has waited to give them.

After almost a fortnight of uncertainties, they took off this morning in the Ford relief plane from the Irish island which had been their refuge and which became their prison. Their history-making plane, the Bremen, was left behind, unable to take to the air because it lacked skis.

The start of the relief plane piloted by Bernt Balchen was made at 7:45 a. m. An hour later it was sighted over Harrington, and at 11 a. m. it was reported sighted over Natusquan, 255 miles west of Greenly Island, the eastern terminus of the winter air mail service. The plane was expected to arrive here about 4 p. m.

To guard against disaster in a landing on the lake ice here, a plan arranged by Captain James Fitzmaurice before he returned to the island will be carried out. The Ford plane will circle the lake until observers have determined and signaled whether the ice is still strong enough to bear the heavy plane. If it is not the Ford will keep on to Quebec, 80 miles away, and land on the field on the Plains of Abraham.

Miss Herta Junker, who has been handling the relief plans, said that skis had not been sent to the Bremen because it had been planned to fly the transatlantic craft direct to New York where a landing with them would have been impossible.

Rush Repairs to F13.
Curtis Field, N. Y., April 26 (AP).—Mechanics were rushing repairs to the Junkers monoplane F13 today so that it might fly to Montreal this afternoon to bring the Irish-German crew to New York tomorrow or the next day.

It was felt that as they had to abandon the Bremen at Greenly Island they would prefer to reach their original destination in a sister ship.

Abandon Bremen.
The Monoplane Bremen, which bore the two Germans and the Irishman from Ireland, to the lonely island, was abandoned to await a ship when the ice blocking the straits should be clear.

Announcement of the takeoff was flashed by the government wireless, which had been almost the sole link with civilization during the thirteen days the plane and its crew had been held at the island.

It was Friday, April 13, that the Bremen made a forced landing, when near the limit of its fuel supply, on the rocky islet 400 miles north of its course. The undercarriage was smashed and other damage done in the landing and the island had no facilities for repairs.

Major James Fitzmaurice, one of the crew, was brought out to Murray Bay a few days later by the plane of C. A. (Duke) Schiller, who blazed the hazardous air trail that other relief parties later followed.

A tri-motored Ford plane piloted by Floyd Bennett and Bernt Balchen flew from Detroit to Lake St. Agnes where the necessary parts and fuel for the Bremen were loaded. There Bennett contracted a severe cold which turned to pneumonia and from which he died yesterday in a Quebec hospital.

Balchen with Major Fitzmaurice continued to Greenly. Through some oversight skis to equip the Bremen for its takeoff from the ice surrounding the island were left behind. This, coupled with motor trouble deserted in the Bremen, decided the aviators to leave the German plane and resume their trip to New York in the Ford relief plane. Softening ice, from which alone a takeoff could be made in the vicinity of the rocky island, made it imperative that the party leave soon if they were to complete their journey by air.

By early morning departure from Greenly, the three men were expected to reach their original objective at New York by Friday evening. A stop is to be made at Lake St. Agnes to refuel the plane.

The formal welcome of New York has been postponed to Monday and Tuesday in tribute to Bennett.

FLIGHT TO AMERICA TO BE KEPT SECRET

Berlin, April 26 (AP).—Whatever may be the time for Lilli Dillenz, Viennese actress, to start for America on the Junkers plane Europa, every effort will be made to conceal it, Bert Dillenz, the actress's husband, stated today.

Dillenz expressed disappointment at the premature announcement of his wife's plans. This, he intimated, might cause trouble, especially with certain relatives, who were trying to dissuade his wife from the venture.

Brian's Condition Improved.
Paris, April 26 (AP).—Although never still persisted this morning, the condition of Aristide Brian, foreign minister, improved during the night. It was learned today that there had been slight pulmonary symptoms, but these were abating.

Shriners' Ball A Record-Breaker

A record-breaking program at the Shriners' Ball, a record-breaking audience as to number of guests, a record-breaking sum realized for the Industrial Home due to the generosity of the Shriners, and the Shriners' annual ball of 1928.

The Shriners' Ball was held at the Grand Hotel, and was decorated so that after entering one forgot what manner of place it was in broad daylight. The high vaulted ceiling was hidden by a complete cover of green and white draped material and from that ceiling descended hanging baskets and colorful medallions as well as the big overhead lights. This green and white drapery also adorned the balcony, while the side walls were hidden by the same material in yellow and white. Against the center of the balcony flashed the insignia of the Shriners in tiny colored lights like jewels, and at the opposite end of the balcony almost the entire wall was covered with a huge presentation of the Shriners' emblem in gold against a black background. There were two stages at the center of the building, where the two orchestras, George Olsen's orchestra of eleven pieces from New York which broadcasts the Maxwell hour from WEAF, and Paul Zucca's augmented orchestra of Kingston—were grouped, the stage on the up-town side being also the setting for the further program. A pretty scenic canvas formed the background to each stage. Branches of forsythia decorated the lemonade booth and the refreshment tables where delicious home-made refreshments were served in a cafeteria, by the ladies of the Board of Managers of the Industrial Home.

After a thoroughly appreciated program of music by Zucca's orchestra, Joseph Sheehan, representing the Keith-Albee circuit, in behalf of

Mr. Connell and Mr. Elting announced the program which included the following numbers:

Introduction by the George Olsen Orchestra.
New York City Police Glee Club, in quarters, double quartets, soloists and ensemble singing by the following members of the orchestra: Their last number was "The Merry Widow," sung by the orchestra. Their plans, arranged for the other numbers was a well-organized New York City orchestra.

By the courtesy of the Keith-Albee circuit, the Misses Hubert and Moss, violin and accordion players, who could also sing and whistle administered several varied selections. Bowman and Shaffer gave a comedy acrobatic stunt.

Miss Ann Mack, by the courtesy of the Wolfson Company, accompanied by John Albert, sang three delightful songs.

Miss Ruth Hamilton, from the Keith-Albee circuit, gave a comedy song and dance number.

Miss Irene Decees presented an acrobatic dance.

Another Keith-Albee number, and one of the best of the evening, was a comedy act by Warner, Moran and Margie, the Collegian Trio.

The last number on the program was a group of songs by William Simmons of New York and Woodstock, the distinguished American baritone, who sang, "The Prologue from 'Pagliacci,'" "The Tinklers" by Leher and "On the Road to Mandalay," by request. As an encore Mr. Simmons, who has never been heard to greater advantage or with more pleasure at any time when he has sung for Kingston audiences, sang "Tommy Lad."

Every number on the program was excellent, but special mention should be made of the singing as soloists or in groups by the New York City Police Glee Club.

At the close of the program Philip Elting told briefly of the founding by a group of Kingston women, of the Industrial Home some 51 years ago and of the splendid and kindly human work it has since done in the care of destitute children of Ulster county. Appreciating this meritorious and marvelous work the Shriners were delighted to help in every way, and they thanked the large audience for its support of the cause. The admirable program presented was arranged by George Connell, president of the Customs Inspectors of the Port of New York, who being called upon by Mr. Elting, he counted it a privilege to in this way serve the Collector of the Port and Mrs. Elting as well as have some share in making the lives of little children happier and better. All of the performers, as is their generous way when they know of need, were giving their services for the sake of the kiddies, and doing it enthusiastically.

Mr. Elting, in behalf of the Shriners and the Board of Managers of the Industrial Home, sincerely thanked Mr. Connell and all of the entertainers.

Dancing began as soon as the chairs could be removed after the program and continued until morning, both orchestras being fully appreciated.

Toy Balloon's Long Trip

"Less than five per cent of all accidents can be traced to equipment failure," says a physician who takes care of transportation injuries. It is the human equipment rather than the machine that makes trouble. Human acts and failures are responsible for the great majority of accidents. What it amounts to is that we have improved our machinery more than our own brains. The machine surpasses the machinist. Having created all this elaborate mechanical system, we have to make it fool-proof, so it will automatically protect itself from us, and us from it.

Astronomers of the Observatory of Paris report a new comet in the skies. It is evidently an Irish comet, for it was observed first on March 17, the world, however, pays little heed. We're fed up on comets, and utterly disillusioned. There hasn't been any such celestial apparition big enough to give us a thrill for a generation. Even the famous Halley's comet, when it returned the last time, was shorn of its cosmic tresses—utterly bald-headed. Every new comet heralded by astronomers for years has proved a dud. This last specimen is so insignificant that it can only be seen by using a big telescope and taking a photograph of it with a twenty-minute exposure. The Universe must be running out of comets.

An American actor, once famous as a humorous film actor, recently in vaudeville, returns from a foreign tour with an interesting story. His vaudeville act was a failure in Paris. He started in studying the French language. He studied day and night until he mastered a vocabulary of 1,000 French words. Then, having the words to express his jokes, he achieved a "whirlwind success." It sounds grand, and the moral lesson will not be lost upon a generation that worships success. However, if we know actors and audiences, it wasn't the jokes but the French that made the hit. Complete ignorance of a language isn't funny. Half-knowledge or quarter knowledge is. So childlike is the normal grown-up that there's nothing funnier to him than to hear his language solemnly misspoken by an alien.

TOLERANCE.

Recently fire destroyed the Catholic church in a small California town. Immediately the local Adventist and Presbyterian churches offered their buildings to the Catholics for the celebration of Mass. One offer was accepted, and the Protestant and Catholic services were conducted simultaneously in separate parts of the building.

There have been several other examples lately of friendliness, tolerance and co-operation between representatives of different religious groups. Jews, Protestants and Catholics have appeared on the same platforms, uniting their efforts in some fine civic enterprise, in dedicating a new temple, in community betterment work.

This does not mean that there is no more religious bigotry or intolerance. It does mean that thinking people, with a true humanitarian outlook, find that they have many ideals and aims in common and are big enough to work together for their achievement, regardless of religion or sect. Tolerance is not surrender of principles.

A CULPABLE CONGRESS.

A matter of grave moment, which, curiously enough, appears to be lightly regarded, is to be found in the fact that the refusal of Congress to reapportion representation according to constitutional mandate has left the vote of the Electoral College distributed on the basis of the census of 1910 instead of on that of 1920. This, it is complained and undoubtedly with good reason, will deprive a number of states of their full rightful voice in determining the Presidential election next November. It is stated, for example, that Michigan should have four and California should have six more Presidential electors than they are granted by the census of 1910. "There is but one honest thing for this Congress to do," says the Detroit News. "It can, and should, reapportion on the basis of the 1920 census. Before November it should give the regions apportioning states the additional electoral votes to which they are entitled, and thus remove the danger of a doubtful election which might set in motion uncontrollable passions."

This complaint is as just as the warning is timely. What if the election is close and a candidate is elected or defeated because California and Michigan are denied their full rights in determining the result? The results would be such as it is imperative to forestall. It is charged that the defiance of the constitutional mandate by Congress in this connection is due to the influence of the prohibitionists who fear the certain increase of urban representation. But whatever the successful opposing influence may be, the refusal to reapportion is not merely high-handed but a nullification of a part of the fundamental law of the land—with bad effects of consequences from which the country may well shrink.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

BUILDING UP THE HEART.

When we received instructions as to the examination of recruits for the war, we were not permitted to pass a candidate who had a heart murmur.

Despite the fact that he was often a splendid athlete, a distance runner perhaps, with a record of winning cross country championships of 7 to 10 miles, we were not permitted to accept him for war service. Thanks to the work of Sir James MacKenzie it was demonstrated that heart murmurs in themselves were not important, but the condition of the strength of the heart muscle itself, was the important factor.

The idea was that a heart is just a pump with so much blood to pump to all parts of the body. Now if the heart had a little leak (which causes the murmur) but despite that leak was pumping sufficient blood, then why bother about the leak at all? Over the heart, even without a leak, did not have power enough to pump sufficient pure blood to all parts, then that was naturally a more serious matter.

And so the thought now is to build up the heart muscle and get its nervous mechanism regulated and strengthened, and give no thought to the murmur.

And how is this done?

In only one way, that is by exercise.

To tide hearts over emergencies, drugs such as digitalis and strychnine are given, but they are after all only stimulants, whereas development of the heart muscles is what is really needed.

Accordingly, walks of various distances on the level, or up certain elevations, have been used.

This answers in many cases but the physician is always on the alert lest the patient overdo the exercise.

However a simple invention of Dr. K. Hertzell should be of help when exercise is first taken.

It consists of a tricycle in the running of which both arms perform rowing movements, while the legs make treading movements.

This means that the weight of the body is really supported by the tricycle but the movement of the arms and legs calls for the use of the muscles in arms and legs, and the heart must pump the blood regularly and rhythmically to these parts.

Used on a flat surface this would appear to be a safe manner in which to build up the heart muscle.

After a few months, more vigorous exercise, such as walking uphill, or slow running on the level, may be taken.

This tricycle will invite use, and the heart patient will do the exercise more readily.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

April 26, 1908.—Mrs. Elizabeth Terpening died on Spruce street, aged 22 years.

Miss Agnes Terwilliger and Fred Smith married at bride's home on Green street.

Lucky Find

A short time ago a man purchased an old barrow merely because it closely resembled one that was in his old home when he was a boy. When his purchase arrived home, the likeness struck him as more remarkable than ever, and he wondered whether it could really be the same. Suddenly he recalled that the original barrow had a very artfully planned secret drawer. He sought for this and found it. Lying there was a couple of documents in the writing of his father, one of which contained a five-pound note.—London Mail.

DEAD MAIL BANE OF POST OFFICE

Undeliverable Matter Falls
Many Bags Daily Despite Repeated Warnings.

New York.—For six years the Post Office department has carried on a campaign to induce the public to direct mail legibly to the street and number of its destination and to place a return address on all letters and parcels. Mail bearing incomplete or illegible addresses constitutes one of the main difficulties the postoffice encounters in rendering service.

Since the inauguration of the campaign, six years ago, the general postal receipts have increased approximately 44 per cent, while the receipts of the dead letter office (accruing from the three-cent fee charged for returning mail to senders) have increased only 33 1-3 per cent. This indicates that the department has made progress in its efforts to induce greater care on the part of the public. The dead letter office acts as a kind of barometer, registering the response of mailers to the requests of the post office.

According to postal records the chief offenders against the rule regarding return addresses are business firms that advertise by circulars. There seems to be a belief among circularizers that a return address on a letter of this type amounts to a one-way ticket to the waste basket. It is the opinion of the post office that a letter arriving by first-class mail will be opened regardless of the return address printed on it. It is also noted that the firms sending out advertising material have no way of checking their mailing lists unless their undelivered mail is returned.

Dead letter mail of this variety, parcels and private letters go in swarms to the dead letter office.

Efforts to Reduce Carelessness.—This office was established in 1835 but prior to 1923 no complete record was kept of its transactions. Such statistics as are available show that in 1920 some 380,000 letters were turned over. In 1923, when the senate requested that the postmaster general's annual report should include a statement of the number of dead letters received, the number reported was 2,500,000. From that time, various measures, including legislation, were used to decrease the amount of undeliverable mail.

In 1922 congress authorized the post office to return dead letters whenever the address of senders could be obtained. A charge of three cents was required to be made for the return of ordinary mail and six cents for letters containing anything of value. The amount of revenue thus collected in one year amounted to $46,645.92, or $26,000 more than the cost of the labor involved.

The introduction of the money order system in 1924 was due largely to the fact that much money had been found in unclaimed letters. The following year the government went into the business of making stamped envelopes imprinted with the address of the sender and a request for return. Despite these efforts the receipts of undeliverable mail increased, but this may have been owing in part to the general increase in the volume of mail. In 1926 the three-cent fee was discontinued, and it was not resumed until 1929. In the last five years these fees have averaged $30,000 yearly.

The number of dead letters received and disposed of in the past fiscal year totaled 2,466,000, an increase of more than 2,000,000 over the preceding year. Of these more than 3,000,000 were ultimately delivered. Some $1,000 containing valuables are still held awaiting proof of ownership. Out of 52,000 parcels handled last year 101,000 were delivered, 52,000 were destroyed as valueless or dangerous to other mail matter and 321,000 were filed for disposal at public auction.

Twelve Bags Full Daily.—Visitors to the dead letter office exhibits in New York city often wonder at the carelessness of senders. The undeliverable mail for one day in New York and the New England states fills twelve bags.

The dead letters are opened by machine and distributed to a group of clerks called selectors, whose duty it is rapidly to inspect the contents for clues. Those that contain neither return addresses nor anything of intrinsic value are sold as waste paper. Those containing enclosures are passed on to clerks who record the contents and data for use in case the sender later submits a claim. Letters containing address information are given to clerks who enclose them in official envelopes and dispatch them to the indicated address.

The long experience of clerks saves many a letter from the waste basket. One freak address that is still fresh in the memories of the officials of the New York dead letter office reads as follows:

Hill,
R.,
Mass.
The correct reading, it was at length decided, is:

"R. Underhill, Andover, Mass." Some weeks ago a $500 bill arrived at the New York post office in a dead letter. When the letter was opened the addresses of both sender and addressee were found within and the letter was delivered. Many dead letters come from foreign countries. These almost invariably bear the name of a city, sometimes a street number, without indicating the state. Letters addressed to Slippery Rock, U. S. A.; Phoenixia, America, Broadway, Italian America; Suet Fallers (for Sioux Falls); Preckness Dairy, U. S. A.; Grotto Ave. Pete, B. Y. (for Providence, R. I.); Barber Shop, New York, and a letter with four different addresses on its face—all these came to the selector's desk on the same day recently. A postcard was addressed: "Repairing and Refinishing Neatly Done, North America." Frequently foreigners mistake the advertising on a postcard for the address; sometimes they will copy down every bit of printed matter on a card except the address.

Two Liberty Loan bonds, uncanceled and therefore as good as cash, were found a few weeks ago in inadequately addressed envelopes. One of the bonds was for $1,000 and the other for $500.

Santa Claus's Address Known.—Letters to Santa Claus begin to arrive early; but mail to this elusive personage presents no serious problem. Letters to Santa Claus are all deliverable. Around Christmas time the post office receives many requests from charitable organizations and from individuals asking that Santa Claus communications be forwarded to them. If the applicants can satisfy the post office that they mean to use the letters in the cause of charity they are permitted to have them. The Santa Claus association, devoted to the care of needy children, takes charge of many such missives each year.

Letters manifestly the product of idle hands are speedily disposed of. One of this sort arrived the other day. It was addressed to Mr. Nobody, Nowhere, U. S. A. It came from Berlin.

Texas Sneez Club to Fight Cedar Trees

Austin, Texas.—Members of the Sniff-Sneeze-Sneez club, more formally known as the Austin Hay Fever association, expect to lobby at the next session of the Texas legislature for a bill providing for destruction of cedar trees which exude pollen.

Cedars are numerous in the Texas capital, and every year at pollination time scores of victims are seized with the sneezy, weepy malady. The victims include former Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and several members of the University of Texas faculty. Dr. H. W. Harper, dean of the graduate school, is president of the hay fever association, organized by about 100 sufferers who want legislative relief.

One futile attempt has been made to get remedial laws. A bill providing for the chopping down of all cedar trees which throw off pollen within a five-mile radius of Austin was introduced in the legislature, but it was ridiculed to death.

STORE WOOLENS BEFORE MOTHS START TO LAY EGGS.

It is a N. Y. April 26.—Put your clothes away early and safeguard them from moths which begin to lay eggs the last of April or the first of May, advises the state college of home economics at Cornell University.

It is better to begin to pack your clothes away early and to put the clothes away clean, brush and dry them, and to keep them in a cool, dry place. If they are to be packed away in cardboard boxes, they should be wrapped in paper. If they are to be packed in trunks, they should be wrapped in paper. The chemical immediately begins to evaporate and forms a heavy gas which sinks into the clothing and kills the moths. The trunk should be closed as soon as the evaporation is finished. Several treatments may be needed during the summer if the trunk is not tight. In winter, when the evaporation is not kept in mind, the disagreeable odor soon disappears; that the gas is really poisonous; and that it is highly inflammable.

Another material useful against moths is naphthalene. One pound distributed among the clothes in the ordinary size chest is enough to kill the moths, eggs, and larvae. If the clothing has been thoroughly brushed first, the chest or trunk must be closed tight to avoid the escape of the naphthalene.

ON FASHIONSFur Flowers, Large Rings,
Bracelets and Smart Purses Provide Interest in Cannes

Paris, France—Although the fur corsage or shoulder flower is no longer universally worn, new fashions in such things naturally whet the appetite for more. Feather corsages are no longer a novelty, but the use of fur may properly claim to be. Two fur flowers in the form of gardenias were cut from the black and white spotted pelt of the lion's calf, and proved a striking feature of a costume of a woman who returned from her shining car, wearing a black leather coat over a white dress costume. It seems pertinent to add that when flowers are worn, they are worn either in clusters or at least in pairs. One may, if one chooses, substitute fruit for flowers.

In looking about for interesting developments in handbags, it has been discovered that many smart persons elect to wear fabric bags when box calf seems inappropriate.

"The Helen of Troy" Jewelry in Necklace, Bracelet, and Pendant Earring, is Fashioned of Light-weight Antique Gold Metal in Filigree Effect Set with Stones.

Some of the new Rodier weaves in wool make extremely effective bags. Worth shows one in his window.

Left of black with broken lines in white. It is the approved flat shape, smartly stamped with black box calf held by a metal ring.

Bags are carried either under the arm or in the hand; they are not swung from the handles. Box calf continues to be the smartest leather. Few styles are used, antelope and suede being the choice for dress wear, with an occasional slipper suit.

The fashion in rings is for only one on a hand, usually a large one. Many bracelets are worn, even with sports clothes.

We love these sweet

that are neither scrubbed nor boiled

IT'S now so easy to keep Ann in fresh, clean clothes. I can wash her little frocks whiter, brighter than ever—so easily.

When I think of the way I used to rub, scrub and boil to get Ann's clothes white! But now I just soak and rinse for the whitest week's wash ever.

No scrubbing to wear me out—and wear the clothes out, too. The grimest edges become snowy with little or no rubbing. I've even given up boiling the wash since I changed to Rinso.

Rinso suds are marvelous. So creamy and lasting. They loosen the dirt and stains safely, without the help of bar soaps, chips or powders.

Most of my neighbors now use Rinso in their washers or tubs. We all love the sweetness of the whiter washes that we get the "no-work" Rinso way.

Why don't you get the BIG package of Rinso from your grocer today?

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

Even though some of their stars remain incapacitated from colds the Yankees once more are in radiance of first place in the American League, with the Giants making it unanimous for Father Knickerbocker by clinging to the top perch in the senior circuit through storms and floods in Boston.

The Yankees shook off the Cleveland Indians by making merry with Fipko, Marberry and Van Alstyne in a slug fest in New York yesterday, when the Yankees trounced the Senators, 12 to 4. George Pippen flashed another fine game for the Huguenots. The Giants remained in the lead by the simple process of sitting tight as rain made a clean sweep of their series in Boston.

While the New York teams were congratulating each other on their present high estate, members of the Cardinals and the Reds were recuperating from a seven-inning struggle which the Reds won from the Cardinals, 5 to 4, on a double by Piechick. Red Lucas had only one hit in the game, while Frankhouse, Haid and Reinhardt divided the box work for the Cardinals.

The Pirates once more are gloating over success in a hand-to-hand encounter with a rival contender. The Corsairs leveled the stronghold of the Cubs under a barrage of twelve hits yesterday to win, 10 to 6. What is more important, from a Pittsburgh viewpoint, is that Bureliah Grimes turned in another winning game for his new club, while Charlie Root, Cub ace, was made to feel the heaviest part of the Pirate attack.

In the remaining National League contest, the Robins nosed out the Phillies, 3 to 2, in the ninth after Rube Ehrhardt and Sweetland had engaged in a pretty pitchers' battle. Butch Heinline broke up the game with a triple which scored two runs and wiped out a Philadelphia lead earned in the first half of the ninth.

The veteran Connie Mack, tossing Robert Moses Grove into action again, slipped away with a 3 to 2 decision over the Red Sox, for whom Morris, a recruit from Alabama, turned in a fine game. Mack and his lieutenants are chasing for a chance at the western clubs, now that the leading Philadelphia pitchers have given convincing proof that they are in form.

The Cleveland Indians are eight points behind the Yankees today in spite of a 7 to 3 success over the Browns yesterday. The difference lies in Cleveland's having played a greater number of games. Detroit Tigers took another step toward the 500 mark when they turned on the Chicago White Sox to win by 3 to 2 yesterday. George Moriarty got some good pitching from Whitehill, who won despite the let-down in his batting support.

Tentative plans have been made for the formation of a duck pin league by Y. M. C. A. officials so that bowlers may keep in shape throughout the summer months. All alley men interested in the formation of such a league which has already signed six teams, are requested to meet at the "Y" Friday evening at 7:30 to discuss plans.

Frank N. "Pop" Hinds, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. and Tom Burke, alley custodian there, are both working to bring the duck pin circuit about. A schedule has been worked out for the six teams that already signed but it is desired that several more enter.

GAME ENDS 100 TO 0

No Hit, No Run, Pitcher Also Gets 15 Hits.

Atlantic, Iowa, April 26 (AP).—If Baker Ruth and Lou Gehrig and their slugging New York Yankees mates ever come to Atlantic, they will have a difficult time showing the natives anything new in baseball.

The reason is that nearly everything except an extra inning and errorless game happened when Atlantic beat Griswold, 100 to 0, in a high school game yesterday.

While their pitcher, Don King, hurled a no hit, no run game, struck out 16 and got 15 hits in 17 times at bat, this is what the Atlantic boys, second stringers too, did to Griswold's only pitcher.

They made 66 hits in 100 attempts.

They hit 16 home runs, 6 triples and 23 doubles.

They scored in every inning, getting 30 in the second and 27 in the seventh.

One of them made five home runs and another scored 14 times in 14 times at bat.

The game stopped at the end of the eighth inning when the score-keeper became exhausted.

CLERMONT'S TO MEET
BLUE SOX SUNDAY

The Clermont baseball team will do battle with the Blue Sox at Hasbrouck Park, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The former aggregation has not played any games this season while the Sox lost their opening tilt to the Johnson All-Stars. A strong desire to take the game promises that those who attend will witness a fast performance.

The batteries for the teams have not been officially announced, but it is likely that Tom Lewis will hurl for the Blue Sox, while Jack Dunn is expected to start the game for the Clermonts. Both teams have several relief hurlers.

GAUVZI LEADS CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS.

Sullivan, Mo., April 26 (AP).—C. C. "Cross Country" Price's New York bound caravan of "Marathoners" pushed out of here over the concrete highway to Hillside View, 43 miles eastward, today.

Peter Gavuzzi, England, had a lead of 32 minutes and 41 seconds over Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., when they started this morning after finishing second to Phillip Granville, Canada, on the 42.5 mile lap from Rolla Wednesday.

Granville's time for the day was 5:45:22. Gavuzzi's 6:00:13 and Payne's 6:09:04. Payne's previous edge was 25 minutes. Gavuzzi has traversed the 201.2 miles from Los Angeles in 247:08:55.

Speaking of Irish bulls, here's a clipping from a Gaiety newspaper: "To rob a man of his purse and then murder him for not having it would seem murder among pitiless, brutal crimes, but to kill and slay a man to the point of death and then murder him for not dying quick enough in one point better in the catalogue of human infamy."—Exchange.

Kingston High Wins First Game

Defeated Highland High Baseball Team, Score 15 to 8 at Fair Grounds—Collected 15 Hits off Two Pitchers During Game.

In the opening game of the season the Kingston High School varsity baseball team rounded out a 15-8 victory over the Highland High School at the Fair Grounds Wednesday afternoon. After allowing the Highlanders to score five runs in the second frame the Kingston boys registered their first two tallies in the fourth inning. The local school team scored in every inning following and prevented their opponents from raising their score, except by one run scored in the ninth.

Joyce pitched good ball in every inning but the second when his control weakened. He walked two men and hit another, while five of the eight batters he allowed were made in this session. The inning was started by Mott's walk. Marone's single advanced him to second and the bays were loaded when Haviland got a pass. Mott was hit. Rathbone forced Marone at home, but McAuley singled and when Fisher threw wild two runs were scored. Roosa, Short and Nardone followed with hits. Five runners reached home during the session.

Kingston started their harvest in the fourth when they tallied twice. Five Maroon and White runners crossed the rubber in the fifth stanza, after two outs had been registered. Joyce singled, Miller got a walk. Minasian turned out a two bagger and Clarke and McTague followed with hits before the third man was retired.

Every Kingston man was able to hit at least one safety. Joyce led the field with three singles out of five times at bat. Minasian turned out two doubles, while Miller, Clarke and Merrill also came through with two hits apiece. Roosa and Short of the Highlanders, who registered nine blows of the Joyce-Burgevin combination, were the only two able to register more than one hit apiece. They each scored two.

Resistance to Fire

The word fireproof is probably a less appropriate term than fire resistive. Buildings can be constructed so that they can withstand a complete burning out of contents without any collapse of structural members. There will, of course, be damage to finish and trim. They can also be constructed to withstand exposure from fires in adjacent buildings without communicating fire to the inside of the building, although here again there may be damage to facing material and window glass and shutters. Fire-resistive buildings greatly decrease the destructiveness of fires in providing less likelihood of rapid spread, greater ease of extinguishment, and less hazard to neighboring structures.

The Trouble

The car had broken down and the pair of legs protruding from underneath seemed to indicate that repairs were in progress.

"Had a breakdown?" inquired a passerby.
"Oh, no, only playing hide-and-seek with the works," came a muffled voice from underneath the car. But the questioner was not easily daunted.
"What power car is it?"
"Ferry horse."
"What's wrong with it?"
"Well, as far as I know," came the answer, "thirty-nine horses have bolted, and the remaining one is too upset to answer questions."

Sound Waves

Light and electricity and sound are the results of entirely different vibrations or waves. Sound waves travel in gases, liquids and solids, and their speed varies according to the material, its temperature, etc. Light and electricity travel through a medium which we call the ether, and always at the same speed. There are other vibrations such as the X-rays and wireless telegraphy rays which are still different.

Ocean "Rollers"

The extreme height of ocean waves has been estimated at 30 feet and their length at from 600 to 700 feet.

HUGHIE'S CATCH WON BALL GAME

Jennings Put Up Brilliant Game With Baltimore.

Hugh A. Jennings was the shortstop for that famous aggregation known as the Orioles of Baltimore last night in the 7th. When he joined the club it wasn't so famous, for the team and second division were symmetrical.

From 1902 until 1909, Jennings created a record in the shortstop position that lives in baseball history as one of the greatest. A brilliant, scrappy player he was the personification of all that goes to make a ball player great.

It was Bill Dahlen against Hughie Jennings. Which was the greatest? It was a tossup but the palm would drift toward Hughie for the red-head was a bona fide 300 hitter and his style of play was slightly more sensational. This story will be described in the Jennings in his manner of play for, possibly, this was his most brilliant stunt in fielding.

It was growing dark and the Orioles were making life miserable for Empire Tim Keefe but he refused to call the game as he considered it light enough to finish the contest.

The game meant the winning or losing of a pennant. In the tight race of 1905, the Cleveland and Baltimore clubs were locked in a terrific struggle for first place—only half a game separating them in the last few days of the race.

In this game the Orioles had the Giants as their opponents and the feeling existing between these teams wasn't the sweetest or most kindly.

In the eighth inning the Orioles had the lead, 5 to 2, and that was the reason they wanted the umpire to call the game. In that round Mike Tierman, the first batter up, drove out a hit good for two bases. Van Halten received a pass and with George Davis up it looked like a Taral finish for the Giants but Davis failed to deliver.

Borten, a new man in the league, stepped to the plate for the second time in his big league experience. Bill Hoffer was doing the hurling for the Birds and he looked anxious for he didn't know anything about the newcomer, also the outfielders didn't know where to play for him. Borten smashed the first ball pitched and it looked good for two or more bases. A mighty shout arose from thousands of the Manhattan fans.

A red-headed player leaped into the air with seemingly not the slightest chance of ever touching the flying sphere. The cheering was turned into groans as Shortstop Jennings speared that ball, then tore in and touched second, completing a double play. He could have made a triple, lone handed, if it had been necessary, for all runners had scampered toward home.

For a few seconds silence came over the throng, for they were amazed and dazed by the suddenness and brilliancy of the play. Then the happy Orioles danced with joy. Hughie Jennings was the hero. The catch was recorded at the time as the greatest ever made by a shortstop.

Roland Locke Employed by New York Law Firm

Roland Locke, who clipped Charles Faddock's 220-yard dash record nearly one-half second in the spring of 1926, is going to New York, where he will be employed by a law firm and where he plans to undergo an extensive training program.

Locke's law course studies at the University of Nebraska last year curtailed his cinder track work, but he did go to the Penn relays, where he won the 220-yard dash from Jackson Scholz and Henry Russell. He has done but little running since.

In New York Locke will devote his leisure hours to training and to competition on the indoor boardways. At the opening of the outdoor season he will begin preparation for the Olympic games, he said.

Eddie Collins Ready

Pronouncing himself fit and ready to play ball, Eddie Collins, captain of the Philadelphia Athletics and one time super-second baseman, expressed the wish that he might run his total American League game to 3,000 before he quits the diamond. Collins is nearing his forty-first birthday and has played in 2,778 league games. He hopes to surpass Ty Cobb's mark of 2,988 before he retires.

Jury Verdict Kayos Kearns

Find Contract Was Made With Dempsey But Was Terminated in California—Kearns Loses Suit for $701,000.

New York, April 26 (AP).—Jack Dempsey had another knockout to his credit today. His one time manager, Jack Kearns, went down for the count in the federal district court, losing a suit for $701,000.

The legal array of Dempsey slashed Kearns's claims under breach of their old contract until they amounted only to $15,000 at the maximum.

And last night, after allowing a jury to find only on two questions of fact, Federal Judge John C. Knox delivered the final blow to Kearns's claims by directing a complete verdict for Dempsey.

The court allowed the jury to rule on whether Dempsey had entered into a legal and valid three year contract with Kearns in August of 1923, while the former champion was training for his title defense against Luis Firpo at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. When the twelve men found that Dempsey had done so, they were asked to determine whether this contract was terminated in 1925 by mutual consent in Los Angeles, when the pair of Jacks split their joint property holdings of over $500,000 and decided—as Dempsey testified—that "You shall go your way and I shall go mine."

Although the jury, after four hours and 22 minutes of deliberation, found that a valid contract was entered into by Dempsey and Kearns when the former champion, "to get Doc out of a jam," traced his name over a signature already placed there, they decided that the split in California brought contractual relations to an end. Dempsey had testified that although the 1923 agreement called for Kearns to receive 33 1-3 per cent of his earnings, in accordance with the rules of the New York State Athletic Commission, he always had split fifty-fifty with "the Doc."

Judge Knox, on motion of Arthur F. Driscoll, head of Dempsey's legal array, immediately ordered the jury to render a directed verdict for Dempsey on all the causes of action remaining in Kearns's suit. Three of these demanded $500,000 as Kearns's share in the $718,000 Dempsey received for losing his title to Gene Tunney in Philadelphia in 1926, while the other asked for a portion of the profits of an exhibition tour the ex-champion made in 1924 and 1925. A fifth cause of action, involving $146,000 and relating to a fight between Dempsey and Harry White that never took place, was ruled out two days ago.

Big Parade Here Memorial Day

The Memorial Day committee, composed of representatives of over 50 civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations of the city, report that plans are going rapidly forward to insure the biggest and most inspiring Memorial Day ever held in Kingston.

Tentative plans call for the decoration of veterans' graves by all the school children of the city, assisted by the Boy Scouts.

The Memorial Day parade, one of the largest ever seen in Kingston, will start from Broadway and McEntee street and will march to Academy Green, and thence back to the high school, where a salute will be fired by National Guard artillery. A widely known orator will then give the Memorial Day address.

Almost every organization in the city will take part in the parade. Some of them 100 per cent strong. Four bands and the American Legion Drum Corps have already volunteered their services. A full list of the organizations taking part in the parade will be published at a later date.

The next meeting of the General Memorial Day Committee will be held in the American Legion Building on Thursday evening, May 3, at 8 o'clock. A representative from each organization and society in the city is invited to be at that meeting.

QUESTION BOX SERVICE AT REDEEMER LUTHERAN.

Because of the great interest taken in the Question Box service held at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in March, the pastor has announced a similar service for Sunday evening. Instead of preaching a sermon he will endeavor to answer the following questions and others which may be submitted Sunday:

Can unbelievers pray and be heard? Is a lie ever justifiable? How do you explain the Jonah and the whale story? How shall we address God in our prayers? Can a person be a Christian without going to church? What is the meaning of "charity" in 1 Corinthians 13:1-13? Is there any hope for the backslider in face of Hebrews 6:4-6 and Hebrews 10:26-27? Why did Jesus say on the cross, "Why hast thou forsaken Me"? How can I successfully live a Christian life? Success and friends are invited to place their questions in the pastor's box in the church.

Claim 621 Votes For Gov. Smith

Democratic State Committee Also Claims Reserve Strength of 154 Delegates—Van Namee to Manage Campaign.

New York, April 26 (AP).—The New York State Democratic Committee in a statement made public today asserted Governor Alfred E. Smith would enter the Democratic convention with 621 delegates in support of his nomination as President and a reserve strength of 154 that would support him after discharging obligations to favorite sons.

California's 25 delegates, which will be elected on May 1, were listed in the doubtful column by the committee, although it expects the delegation will be friendly to the governor. Under the Democratic convention's two-third rule, 734 votes are necessary for a nomination.

Simultaneously with the opening of larger headquarters at the Hotel Baltimore, the state committee announced the appointment of George R. Van Namee as manager of the Smith pre-convention activities, a post he has been filling for several weeks in a volunteer capacity.

Mr. Van Namee is a member of the State Public Service Commission and a former secretary to the governor.

Balkan Peninsula Quakes Continue

Vienna, April 6 (AP).—The whole of the Balkan Peninsula, shaken by a series of devastating earthquakes in the past week, is still being swept by violent tremors.

The latest cities to fall in the wake of the earth's terrific movements are the ancient city of Adrianople in European Turkey and the large Bulgarian city of Varna on the Black Sea, while the successive subterranean upheavals have completed destruction of the classical Greek city of Corinth and several additional towns in Bulgaria.

The Varna earthquake, last night, is described as worse than that which caused great damage in the populous city of Philippopolis several days ago. It was accompanied by a giant tidal wave which inundated the city and sank everything in the harbor.

The far-famed islands of Mytilene and Syra in the Aegean Sea, immortalized by Byron, and where the American Near East Relief is caring for 10,000 Greek and Armenian orphans, also were swept by a cyclone which unroofed hundreds of houses, damaged crops and spread panic throughout the population.

MAN ESCAPES DEATH AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

Charles Lampman, sixty-five, a carpenter, of West Coxsackie, narrowly escaped death at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when his automobile was hit by a fast West Shore passenger train, a short distance from his home. He escaped with a scalp wound and bruises.

Lampman was driving south toward his home and attempted to cross the railroad tracks at the first crossing north of the West Shore station at West Coxsackie. The road at that point cuts diagonally across the tracks and Lampman, proceeding in the same direction as the train failed to notice its approach. His escape is attributed to the fact that the train was slowing for the station. The automobile was carried several feet. Lampman's injuries resulting from the flying glass. He was treated by Dr. I. E. Van Hoesen of Coxsackie and was taken to his home.

Mellon Satisfied With New Tax Cut

Washington, April 26 (AP).—Secretary Mellon said today that additional support of the new Republican tax plan calling for a $210,000,000 reduction would be satisfactory to the Treasury.

The Democrats on the finance committee want a $225,000,000 reduction. Secretary Mellon, with the support of President Coolidge, had previously recommended a reduction within a range of between $180,000,000 and $260,000,000.

The $210,000,000 reduction was regarded by Treasury officials as the limit that would be sanctioned by the administration.

WILL ORGANIZE COUNTY FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

A discussion of law enforcement will be held at a general community meeting of Ulster county men and women under the auspices of the New York Women's Committee for Law Enforcement in the lecture room of the First Dutch Church next Monday afternoon, April 30, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth Bain of that committee will explain its policies and will assist in forming a local branch of the organization. The Rev. Dr. Lucas Boeve, pastor of the church, will be among the speakers.

A non-partisan organization, with no political affiliations, the New York Women's Committee for Law Enforcement directs its efforts just as its name indicates, toward securing the enforcement of laws as they exist on the statute books of the nation and the state and in obtaining legislation and officials to uphold the laws.

The committee is a branch of the National Women's Committee for Law Enforcement and has been working along this line for five years. It numbers among its leaders many women, and men also, whose names are well known all over the country and who have wielded a decided influence on the issue of law enforcement. Democrats and Republicans alike are on the executive committee of the national organization as well as the New York group.

Miss Bain has assisted in organizing local committees in the neighboring counties. Since she has been in Kingston, Miss Bain has appeared before a number of the local clubs.

Miss Bain has had an unusually interesting opportunity to study the effects of law and discipline, having worked on the streets of London and Paris by night during the World War and later having been sent by the United States government to lecture and work among the American soldiers in China and the Philippines.

Miss Grace van Braam Roberts of Highland is the chairman of the executive committee of the New York committee and the other officers are Mrs. Cleland H. Dodge, Mrs. John Grier Hibben, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Miss Mary Garrett Hay and Mrs. Halsey W. Wilson, vice chairman; Miss Rembrandt, treasurer; and Miss R. M. Brown executive secretary.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 26 (AP).—Railroad shares again held the center of the stage in today's stock market, practically all active issues mounting to new high levels for the year. Prices ranging from fractions to 2 points. Renewed weakness cropped out in the tobacco shares on the announcement that the Lorillard Company had met the recent cigarette price cuts of other manufacturers, but other industrial points upward after an early period of irregularity. Trading was again in large volume, total sales crossing 2,300,000 shares before the end of the third hour.

The brisk demand for the rails took place in the face of another poor freight car loadings report, receiving its chief impetus from the rather general belief that an agreement on eastern railroad consolidations finally had been reached by leading executives. St. Louis, Southwestern and Lehigh Valley each up 8 points; the advance, Jersey Central and Union Pacific climbed about 5 points each and Wash. Chicago North-western and a score of others moved up 2 points to nearly 5 points.

Call money appeared to be in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 5 per cent, but time money was slightly firmer.

Oils were again under accumulation on reports of further trade improvement. Atlantic Refining and Kichfield Oil of California reaching new high ground. Case Threshing Machine soared 8 1/2 points. Advance Rumely preferred 5 1/2 and Curtiss Aeroplane, Continental Insurance and International Agricultural Chemical preferred moved up 5 points or more. General Railway Signal and Gold Dust rallied briskly at the expense of an over-crowded short interest.
